Eros
Sabbatani

Tuba Soloist and Composer from Italy

Eros Sabbatani

Born in 1971, Eros Sabbatani is currently Professor of Tuba at the Conservatorio di musica "Giuseppe Verdi" in Milan, Italy.

His soloist as well as his orchestral activities, which have allowed him to work with worldwide famous conductors such as Muti, Mehta, Gergiev, Prêtre, Tamayo, Rostropovich, complement his didactic activity.

Eros Sabbatani is definitely Italy's tuba player who has won the largest number of auditions and national/international competitions, such as the prestigious TIM competitions.

Musical education and professional experience

Eros Sabbatani began his bass-tuba studies at the age of 14 and made his debut at the "Sala Verdi" of Milan at the age of 18. In 1991 he graduated with honours from the Conservatorio "Giuseppe Verdi" in Milan, and later obtained his post grade specialization diploma in tuba from the Musikhochschule in Freiburg (Germany) under the guidance of Georg Monch.

Eros Sabbatani played with the most important orchestras in Italy. Furthermore he had the opportunity to play with outstanding musicians such as Allen Vizzuti, Joe Alessi, Oystein Baadsvik, Steve Rossé and Jens Björn-Larsen.

Teaching experience

Eros Sabbatani started teaching in 1996 in the conservatories of Monopoli, Avellino and Salerno. From 2001 Eros Sabbatani holds the position of professor of tuba at the Conservatorio "Giuseppe Verdi" of Milan after winning the selection process with distinction.

Soloist activities

Eros Sabbatani performs regularly as a duo with pianist Marco Cadario, the official pianist of the International Music Competition of Porcia. Furthermore he is the founder of the Italian Miraphone Tuba Quartet.

Instruments

Eros Sabbatani plays exclusively on Miraphone instruments (from the BBb tuba model "Siegfried", to the F tuba model 181C "Belcanto" to the Euphonium M5050 "Ambassador").
